

Nick Nicolls

GITW Benefits CEO & Owner

Nick Nicolls is CEO and an Owner of GITW Benefits, a national insurance agency that specializes in serving the First Nations. Nick spent 24 years working with the State of Idaho and understands the challenges of government bureaucracy and the importance of great employee development, interaction and appreciation. He has also spent over a decade working in private business before becoming an insurance professional in 2008. As CEO he oversees the management of over 300 payrolls within more than 85 Tribes. This experience has aided him to develop and implement specific protocols that are unique in serving Native American needs. Nick currently resides in Sandpoint Idaho with his wife of 38 year. With 3 grown sons and 7 grandchildren, he understands the family-focused priorities of the people he serves.
