

Mariella Platner
Director of Human Resources
United Auburn Indian Community

Mariella Platner has worked in the Human Resources area for over 20 years, her career spanning three continents and several international companies. Her Master's degree in HR and Organizational Management put her in a leadership HR role right after graduation, and she has never looked back. In 2007 Mariella achieved her SPHR certification, and in 2010 earned her certification as Tribal HR Professional. Mariella always says that she doesn't have a most – or least – favorite part of HR, but her passion lies with employee and labor relations. She has been in Indian Country HR since 2008, working on both the government and enterprise sides. Mariella is currently serving as Director of Human Resources for United Auburn Indian Community.
